

AN HISTORIC MOMENT, on a new float — Capt. Jose Francis Ortega, Steve Riffero, listens as Fr. Juniper Serra blesses the presidio captain will command.

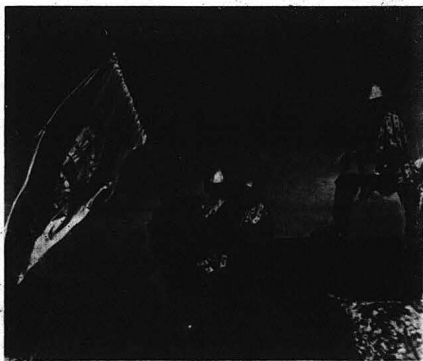

WHITE HORSES, beautifully gowned women — the Camarillo Riders drew cheers as they rode six abreast along the parade route again this year.

A GOLDEN PALOMINO, revival of the famed golden horse of the Spanish conquistadores, is Johnny Hoffman's Ringo. All parade pictures on these pages are News-Press photos by Ray Borges, Jim Jouravloff, Ken Lewis and Burl Hamrick.

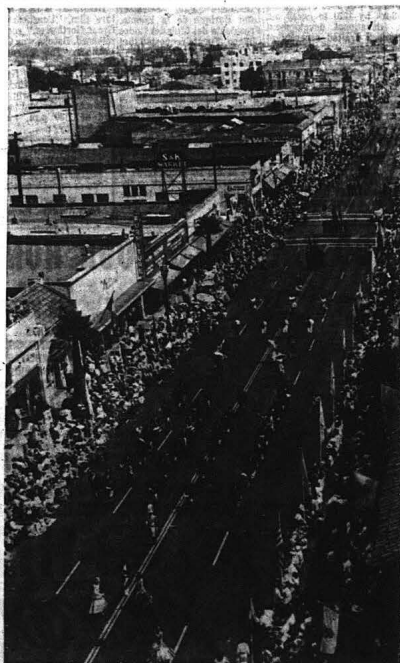

COL. FREMONT, who led American soldiers into the soil of California in this impressive float, showing the landing of Cabrillo here in 1542.

THE UNFURLED FLAG of Spain is planted in the soil of California in this impressive float, showing the landing of Cabrillo here in 1542.

A MUSTACHIOED BANDIT, Jack Powers, played by Andy Witmer of Santa Barbara, led again the band that once terrorized Santa Barbara.

THOUSANDS OF SPECTATORS lined State Street and Cabrillo Boulevard to watch the long and colorful El Desfile Historico pass by.

INDIAN WOMAN marooned 18 years on San Nicolas Island, portrayed by Mrs. Idelle Meng.

BLONDE INDIANS were among the parade spectators, Mrs. Betty Grant and her son, Mark.

Highlights Of Parade

THIS PROUD HORSE, Desert Fox, carried Frederick E. Kirk, a neighbor from Oxnard, along briskly yet sedately, one of the more colorful of many beautiful horses in the parade.

A FLOWER-BEDECKED victoria carries Mrs. George Fiske Hammond, left, and Mrs. Ernest Storke Menzies, both of pioneer families.

SMALL DRUMMER, big drum—Mike Mooy rapped his way along with the Goleta Boys Club Drum Corps.

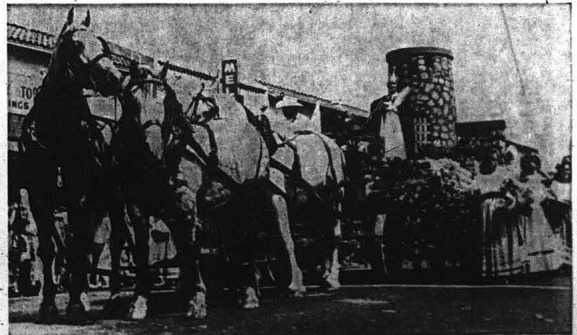

CALIFORNIA'S GOVERNOR, traditional guest at Santa Barbara fiestas for 100 years, is represented by a congenial Edmund G. (Pat) Brown and Mrs. Brown.

SMILING YOUTH rides with dignified age in this old families' coach. They are from the left, Linda Appleby, 10; Mrs. Dora Jimenez and Mrs. Flora Save, Linda's great-grandmother.

SAINT BARBARA—the city's patron saint—before the tower that imprisoned her is played by Mariana Schmitter on this float sponsored by the Native Daughters of the Golden West.

INDIAN WOMAN marooned 18 years on San Nicolas Island, portrayed by Mrs. Idelle Meng.