Scattering Returns From Various States.

The Murder at Mussel Slough—The Blessed Rain—O'Donnell's Lawyer—Republican Committee Meeting—The Drift of Government Securities—Complaint of the Grand Trunk Railroad—A Case of True Love and Cold Pizen.

Hanford, Nov. 8.—There are no new developments in regard to Edward McAuliffe's death. No arrests have been made. J. H. Riley, in his testimony at the Coroner's inquest, stated that last Sunday a man came to the place and made inquiries that aroused Riley's suspicion. He wished to enter the ranch shanty of Cockrill, where Riley was stopping, but Riley dissuaded him by telling him there was a sick man there and the doctor's instructions were that the sick man should not be disturbed. The man soon left. Riley seemed to think that this man killed McAuliffe. This remarkable homicide has been the general topic of conversation and discussion today.

Republican National Committee Meeting.

Atchison, Kan., Nov. 7.—Col. John A. Martin, Secretary of the National Republican Committee, today sent out the following call: A meeting of the Republican National Committee will be held at the Arlington House, Washington, D. C., Wednesday, Dec. 12th, 1883, at 12 o'clock, for the purpose of deciding upon the date and place for holding the next National Republican Convention. The Committee will also elect a Chairman, vice Governor Marshall Jewell, deceased.

O'Donnell's Defense.

London, Nov. 7.—General Pryor says he has not applied to take part in O'Donnell's defense and does not propose to make such an application. He is aware of the rule excluding any but an English barrister from the British Courts and does not imagine it will be relaxed in his behalf. General Pryor states that O'Donnell is already provided with counsel, in whose fidelity his friends have implicit confidence.

A Railroad Row.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—The Commissioner of the Trunk Line Association having complained that the National Dispatch Line was not maintaining the agreed division on California rates, the companies west of the Missouri river have addressed a joint circular to their agents, to charge full local rates on all California freight shipped from Chicago, St. Louis, and other western points via the National Dispatch. The Northern Pacific has, it is said, also complied with this request.

The Stock Market Affected.

New York, Nov. 7.—Government securities were irregular in the stock market to-day, though the first effects of the election reports were undoubtedly to induce some buying and to advance prices. There were no demonstrations on the part of either the bull or bear cliques and the market has only drifted.

The Colliery Explosion.

London, Nov. 7th.—Twenty persons have been rescued, some badly hurt. It is impossible to estimate the number of persons killed. Parties are now searching for the missing miners. The search had to traverse a distance of a quarter of a mile before reaching the scene of the explosion.

Raining in the North.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Up to noon to-day forty-six hundredths of an inch of rain have fallen during the preceding twenty-four hours. It is still drizzling. Reports announce rain in the northern section of the State.

Suit Against the Northern Pacific.

New York, Nov. 8.—The suit of John J. Bradley, to restrain the Northern Pacific Railroad Co. from further mortgaging their property, has been removed from the State to the Federal Court.

Combative Malone.

Petersburg, Nov. 8.—Senator Mahone and his son were fined fifteen dollars for drawing a pistol at the polls on election day. The court room was crowded.

Victims of Cholera.

Alexandria, Nov. 8.—Deaths from cholera are confined to Europeans. There were two deaths yesterday.

ELECTION NOTES.

Returns from Connecticut, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, New York, New Jersey and Nebraska.

NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 8.—The Sun says: Maynard, for Secretary of State appears to have run 30,000 votes behind on his ticket in this city, Brooklyn, Rochester and Buffalo, and Carr, Republican, is elected by from 16,000 to 18,000. Maxwell, Democratic, candidate for Treasury, lagged behind the ticket in the western part of the State, but probably pulls through. Russell, Republican candidate for Attorney General, leads Carr and the rest in northern New York, but not enough to put him ahead of Dennis O'Brien, the Democratic nominee. Chairman Daniel Manning, of the Democratic State Central Committee, telegraphed that the chief feature of the election had been the cutting of Maynard's name, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, in New York and Brooklyn, by the liquor interests and in the large cities in the western part of the State through other causes.

According to our latest reports, the State ticket is elected by about 10,000 majority, except the Secretary of State, who is defeated by 15,000. The Legislature is Republican. The State Senate stands 19 Republicans to 13 Democrats. The Assembly has 72 Republicans to 56 Democrats. The total vote for Mayor of Brooklyn exceeds that cast for the State ticket by nearly 4,000. The lowest majority is 1,688.

The Tribune estimates Carr's plurality at over 16,000, and says the other Republican candidates on the State ticket apparently lack only from 4,000 to 6,000, of an election.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 7.—Returns from a number of counties are incomplete, but sufficient is known to insure the election of the entire Democratic State ticket. The majority for McLane is estimated at twelve thousand. Republicans gain three Senators, Democrats gained Senators in Frederick and Washington counties. This with five Democratic and eight Republican Senators holding over, will make the Senate stand, fourteen Democrats to eleven Republicans, with Calvert county yet to be heard from; but it will probably go Republican. The House of Delegates will be Democratic by probably twenty or more.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 8.—The latest returns show that McLean, Democrat, has a majority in the State of 12,069. The Senate stands 14 Democrats, to 12 Republicans. The House of Delegates, 63 Democrats to 28 Republicans, giving a Democratic majority of 37 on joint ballot.

CONNECTICUT.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 7.—Connecticut elects 11 Republican Senators and one Democratic Senator. The Senators holding over are 5 Republican and 7 Democrats. The Senate now stands, 16 Republicans to 8 Democrats; in the lower House there are 10 towns to hear from which were last year evenly divided. It now stands, 145 Republicans to 90 Democrats. There is one tie. The Republican majority will be 55; on joint ballot 65.

MISSISSIPPI.

Jackson, Nov. 7.—The latest returns show no change in the result of the election as announced last night, except Panola county, where the Fusion ticket was defeated by a small majority. Adams, Hinds, Madison and Monroe counties give good Fusion majorities. The regular Democratic ticket had little opposition.

MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 8.—Official returns from 6 counties, partial returns and estimates from about 50 counties, and 5 estimates based upon the election of 2 years ago from the remaining 10 counties, give Hubbard 14,000 majority and the rest of the Republican ticket about 17,000. These figures will not vary much from the official ones.

NEBRASKA.

Omaha, Neb., 7:20 a. m., Nov. 7.—Returns from 150 precincts give Reese, Republican, for Supreme Judge 2150. Estimates based on those, places his majority in the state at between 5,000 and 6,000.

NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, N. J. Nov. 7.—The Times computes Abbott's, Democrat, majority at 5499.

LOVE AND DEATH.

A Young Italian Lady Poisons Herself and Her Lover.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Angela Demati, a young Italian woman, who was married four weeks ago to Dominico Demati, a saloon keeper, committed suicide yesterday. From her letters left, the cause is shown to be her distasteful marriage and love for a young man named Gianetti, a musician, in the Presidio band. From the testimony elicited, it seems that the deceased tried to induce her lover to die with her and even tried to force the poisoned liquor down his throat; but he had already drank so heavily of other liquor that it would not stay on his stomach. Her agony at seeing that her lover would not accompany her in death is described as terrible. She was twenty years old.

The Massachusetts Clerk Ready to Bob up Again.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—The Herald states that Governor Butler told a member of his council that he should run for Governor next Fall. The compliment of 150,000 votes leads him to think he will be successful.

Scandinavian Mormons.

New York, Nov. 8.—The steamer Wisconsin has landed at New York three hundred and fifty Mormon converts from Scandinavia.

The Pool Commissioner.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 8.—Geo. W. Reistlin, who was elected Commissioner of pools at Chicago last week, has replied, accepting the position.

Barley firm, quiet, seller season $1.03 1/4 @ 1.03 1/2; buyer season $1.15 1/4 @ 1.15 1/2.

Sixty-three Miners Killed.

London, Nov. 8.—At the Moorefield colliery explosion, the latest accounts show that 63 miners were killed.

A Lord Mayor to be Tarred and Feathered.

Dublin, Nov. 8.—A plot has been discovered to tar and feather the Lord Mayor on Thursday, while attending a meeting at the University of the Philosophical Society of Trinity College.

Your Eastern Friends,

OTTER HUNTING.

The Sharp Shooters of the Sea.

The War Upon the Furry Beauties of the Kelp.

Five Hundred Dollar Skins and How They are Obtained—A Difficult but Profitable Industry.

Perhaps the most beautiful article called into requisition to adorn the human form divine and especially the female form divine is the warm and downy fur of the sea otter. Few of the aristocratic belles of San Francisco who arrive in Santa Barbara on a visit attired in a thousand dollar cloak realize as they pass down the channel that they are passing over the haunts of a beautiful animal who may have sported the same coat in which they are so snugly ensconced. But such is the fact for the Santa Barbara islands is the only point of any importance in this industry south of San Francisco. Regularly equipped schooners are at all times in the waters of Alaska and the Chinese seas engaged in hunting these valuable animals, but of all the places along the coast from Puget Sound to San Diego, Santa Barbara claims three quarters of the men and capital engaged in the prosecution of this business. There is but one firm in San Francisco who have parties out hunting the otter in

THESE SOUTHERN WATERS.

The usual and most successful method pursued is to hunt with three boats to a party, each boat containing three men, one or more of whom is a sharp shooter. Rifles of the very finest make are required and some of the weapons brought into requisition are beautiful specimens of the gun maker's art. The firm of Rogers Brothers of this city have now three parties upon the Islands of San Miguel, San Nicolas and others. They are taken over and left upon these islands on the schooner Convoy, belonging to this energetic firm, who keep a vessel employed attending to their abalone, seal and otter operations. The skin of an otter is worth all the way from $45 to $500, a wide margin. The points of excellence are size of skin, heaviness and length of hair, and in the best ones called "silver tipped" skins a beautiful color is added to the ordinary shade. The fact that but about 150 skins were obtained in these waters last year and that their value is roughly estimated at in the neighborhood of $10,000, will give an idea of the value and scarcity of the animals. It requires long practice to enable a man to become a successful otter hunter.

About the most expert of the sharp shooters in this business, is George Sidever, now upon the Islands. His father, now dead, was also an expert hunter, and the first man to shoot otters on this coast. It was on one of these expeditions he discovered the lone woman of San Nicolas, whose heroism and exile are celebrated the world over, but whose grave remains unmarked and unhonored in the Sidever lot in the cemetery.

Of the furry prize are among the kelp, where they lie upon their backs, it requiring an experienced eye to distinguish them from sea gulls. They feed upon a shell-fish which grows among the kelp, and of which they are very fond. The work of "bagging" one of these shy, active members of the amphibious order, requires the utmost vigilance, the most practised eye and unlimited patience. When one is seen and fired at, it dives, and the boats endeavor to place themselves in such positions that one of them will be near the game when it comes to the surface to breathe. This may be any time within an hour, as a gentleman experienced in the business assures the representative of the INDEPENDENT that they can remain as long a time as sixty minutes under the water without requiring air. This seems almost incredible. A mortal shot ends the chase, but as a wounded animal will sometimes occasion a long pursuit, the business has its excitements. The fact that the value of the prize is unknown until it is secured gives the occupation a

"TINCTURE OF HAZARD"

As of course a $500 capture, is a lucky hit, and pays for many a day of weary futile watching which is frequently passed. The pursuit of this trade is confined of course to calm weather, as the small and easily handled boats necessary to be used in its prosecution could not live upon a rough sea, and the animals could be neither seen nor hit among the white caps. All seasons of the year however, are suitable times, the only distinction being those which are the stormiest, are for that reason and that only the most unsuitable. The fur in its natural state does not resemble the beautiful, soft seal brown color and appearance, which it is generally made to assume after having been in the hands of the furrier. When first taken from the animal the skin has long, somewhat coarse, but still very beautiful hair above the short soft-undergrowth which generally alone remains visible in cloaks and hats. Most of the

CURING AND DRESSING

Is done in Europe. The fact that Rogers Brothers have such a number of employees in this business, and have kept them at it for several years proves that it is remunerative. Truly it may be said that this strange little place, jestingly termed the Zenith City, is headquarters for all the peculiar out-of-the-way industries in the country. That three-fourths of this one odd but important feature in the world's commerce that is produced on the Pacific coast of the United States is obtained through the enterprise of Santa Barbara men, speaks well for her business activity and the wonderful variety and value of her resources. It only remains to call attention to the number of people who indirectly profit from the number of men of Santa Barbara who gain a livelihood by this original feature.
