LONG ISLAND.

—The Excise Commissioners of North H. instead, grant but three licenses in Roslyn.

—Susan Robbins of Roslyn, fell down stairs on Thursday and broke her right arm near the wrist.

—The Rev. Dr. Boynton, of Milford, Delaware, has been called to the pastorate of the Freeport Presbyterian Church.

—Rev. Mr. Brown, lately from the Union Theological Seminary, of New York, has been called to preach at the First Presbyterian Church at Greenlawn.

—Receiver Sharp has determined to lay an additional track from Berlin Station to East New York. The work is to be completed by June 15th, in time for the increased summer travel.

—Hon. John A. King is expected home in a few weeks, with one of his daughters. After making a short visit among his friends he will go back to Europe, and in the fall return with his family.

—The Rev. Mr. Young, of the Baptist Church of Port Jefferson, is recovering from the burns received some days since. He had a narrow escape with his life.

—St. George's Church, Hempstead, elected H. M. Underdonk, A. J. Spooner and S. L. Seaman, delegates to the Annual Convention of the Episcopal Church of this diocese.

—The late John L. Ireland, who died at his mansion home, at Brookhaven, a few weeks ago, was one of the wealthiest men in the County, and his son, John, a New York banker, inherits the bulk of his wealth.

—Chief Justice Prince will be invited to address his fellow-townsmen at the Opera House on an early day to give a brief description of his recent visit to New Mexico and his impressions of that country and its people.

—The Empire State Brick Company have commenced operations at the brick works on East Neck, known as Eckerson's Brick Yard, and are erecting Gregg's patented improved machinery from Philadelphia.

—On Friday last, about 1,000 cattle and 25 horses were taken to Montauk for the summer's pasturing. Although many feared the spread of disease among them, yet nearly all of the owners sent their cattle.

—The brick for the Cathedral school at Garden City are to be made at the works belonging to the Stewart estate beyond Farmingdale, and to facilitate their transportation a line of railroad is being built from Farmingdale.

—Manhattan Brick will be for many months open June 14. Gilmore's Band and Lolly, the cornet soloists has been engaged for the season. Although 200,000 people bathed there last year, the capacity of the bathing establishment has been doubled this summer.

—A clue to the whereabouts of the Bayshore murderer is thought can be traced by a letter he wrote to a negro woman named Gable, who, with her husband, has been arrested for robbing Luke Fleet's store, at Mineola, the letter and proofs of the robbery being found in her possession.

—Edward Abrams, of Hempstead, a butcher, has been missing for some weeks. At first there was some alarm, and suspicions of foul play, but the key to his absence has been found at Ridgewood, and there is nothing but surprise now. The lady is to be pitied.

—The Merrick Camp Meeting Association have decided to erect a large tabernacle immediately in front of the preacher's stand. It is to be 100 feet square and will comfortably shield about 5,000 persons from sun and rain, and falling dew in the evening. The bids for building it were opened April 29th and Pearsall & Conklin of Freeport were the lowest bidders.

—The Boards of Excise of Brookhaven and Port Jefferson will grant no licenses, and the temperance societies have taken upon themselves the responsibility of presenting all who sell liquor. In Sag Harbor the Board placed the fee for a hotel license at $100; an ale and beer license, at $40, and a store license, at $75. But four licenses were granted.

—The Board of Education of Long Island City have notified the Mayor that they can reduce the salaries of school teachers of the first grade fifteen per cent, second grade five per cent, when the city is in a position to pay them promptly. They are now owed for several months, and so are the police. The latter will also submit to a reduction of pay if paid promptly. The Mayor does not know how to get at it. He proposes to issue tax certificates in advance of the collection of taxes, but it finds no favor.

—Probably the greatest trout preserve in this State is the one belonging to the South Side Club, at Islip, where Recorder Hackett and a hundred others spend their Sundays angling. Of this Spring's hatching there are 150,000, and of two year olds about as many, while no one knows how many are in the great pond. It is a beautiful sight to see them feed.

—Jamaica will in all probability have the honor, if such it is of determining the appeal in the case of Talmage the Pastor of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, who has just been acquitted by the Brooklyn Presbytery of the charges preferred against him. The vote it is true was close, 25 to 20, but it is generally regarded as just. The Synod to which the appeal goes, will be held in the Presbyterian Church in this village, the coming Fall. Should the appeal be brought, our citizens will have the opportunity of listening to some of the great lights of the Church in this most exciting ecclesiastical trial.—Jamaica Democrat.

—Hundreds of acres of swamp land on both the South and North side of Long Island could be made to turn in a handsome sum for their owners every year by raising cranberries. The land wants to be drained so that it can be flooded every fall after picking is over. Taking a wild guess at now, flood it one or more years before planting to kill the grass entirely, then sand with clear sand not over four inches. The plants do better set out in the Spring, about corn planting time. They bear the third year. If vines grow too luxuriantly sand again so as to check their growth and make them produce more abundantly.

—There is great anxiety among cattle owners in Bridgehampton, L. I., in consequence of the discovery, through official investigation, that pleu pneumonia prevails there to a much greater extent than had been supposed. Prof. Law and Dr. McLean have examined several herds, and found the disease in its worst type, as proved by the condition of the lungs of a number of cattle after they had been slaughtered. The disease is supposed to have been propagated by a drove of cattle driven into the hampton by Isaac Bellard last December, a hundred or more of them having been sold by him.

—Augustus F. Weeks applied to the Supreme Court Monday morning for a mandamus to compel Francis R. Baldwin, Tr. of an of Queens County to receive $232.61 in full of unpaid taxes, county and State taxes for 1877, on certain lots in the Town of Flushing, belonging to the relative, and to give receipts therefor. The answer was that the County Treasurer was entitled to one dollar a lot for publication. The relator urged that he paid the taxes before the list of taxpayers in default was published. Judge Gilbert held that when the Treasurer had made out his list and sent it to the printer, his work was done, and that having done that he was entitled to one dollar a lot for taxes paid before sale, one dollar and a half if paid after sale, and one dollar and a half if leased. An order was made accordingly.

For the relator, George W. Van Sledright, for the defendant, Judge Armstrong.

—It was stated in last week's issue that a snow storm passed over this place on the 4th of July, fifty years ago. As some unsophisticated people hardly ever heard of such a thing "if ever" we thought it proper to bear witness to it.

The above fact can be verified for by one who saw it snow and felt its influence on his coat and new beaver hat that was worn on that day. The morning of July 1829 was cold at 11 o'clock, a heavy dark cloud came over the City of New York from N. W., when large flakes of congealed vapor the size of a ten cent piece began to fall. In fifteen minutes every thing around City Hall Park was covered white. It soon evaporated, leaving the streets and side walks as if there had been a large shower of rain. There are doubtless numbers of people living who can testify to the phenomenon.—Rural Gazette.

—In the Supreme Court, Kings county, Wednesday, the Breslau litigation, a most complicated proceeding, was settled. The tract of land in dispute is situated on the line of the Long Island Railroad and extends to Great South Bay. The case has been before the courts for the last seven years. In 1870 Charles A. Schleier purchased the site of the present City of Great South Bay (a German settlement of 600 acres in Suffolk county, for $80 an acre. Shortly afterward Thomas Wellwood, who owned a large farm in the immediate vicinity, became a partner of Schleier, and the farm was added to the city and divided up into lots. Schleier learned, soon afterward, that his partner had transferred his property to his wife, Abbie Wellwood. This led to the litigation. Schleier seeking to set aside this transfer. Wednesday the order made by Judge Barnard, of the General Term of the Supreme Court, was settled. Wellwood gives up all claim to Breslau, the title to which now rests in Charles S. Schleier.

SUPERVISORS' MEETING.

The Board of Supervisors held their regular bi-monthly meeting at Braham Island on Wednesday. All present except Mr. C. G. VanAlst for surveying at Court House.

Mr. Brinkerhoff presented the bill of P. G. VanAlst for surveying at Court House; audited in the sum of $15.

A communication was received from Capt. Rouillier enclosing a requisition for lockers, closets, and extra gun racks for properly keeping uniforms, arms, records, &c., of the 17th Sep. Co., Flushing. Laid on the table until a future meeting.

Supt. Franklin presented his report for the month of April, furnishing meals and lodging to twenty persons at cost of $6. Supt. Simons: examinations made, 24; passed to the island, 4; temporary relief furnished 24 persons at a cost of $7.20. The Chairman, as a special committee, reported that he had informed Messrs. Jones, Provost and Hicks that the contracts for furnishing coal for the Court House, Poor House and Asylum had been awarded them.

Mr. Cornelius, from the Treasurer's Office, stated that Mr. Furman, one of the Newtown Assessors had called upon him and stated that the Newtown Assessors had made a number of errors in the assessment roll. No action was taken in the matter. Mr. Cornelius also stated that notes of $140,000 for state taxes became due June 10th and asked that provision be made by the Board to meet them before that time.

COUNTY TRUST INVESTMENTS.

In the suit brought by Elizabeth Firth and others against Ex-Treasurers Roe, Bergen and Carl, for alleged mismanagement and wrong investment of trust funds, the defendants separately demurred on the ground that they could not be sued jointly and the complaint stated no cause of action against them.

THE MENHADEN.

The catch of menhaden has increased, and the season yet bids fair to be prosperous. On Wednesday of last week a good many fish were taken by both steamers and sailing vessels. The Falcon Oil Works received over 600,000 fish, and the Ranger works over 400,000. Church's large steamer the Humphreys, which carries 25 men, took 600,000 on Wednesday. The Lizzie Colburn took 300,000 at one sail.

Capt. George Tutill, Promised Land used about 2,000,000 menhaden in his fish-oil and guano works last week, and made about 300 bbls. of oil.

On Friday and Saturday of last week the factory of Higgins & Payne, at Deep Hole, received 1,355,150 fish which are equal to 225 barrels of oil and 200 tons of scrap.

From Thursday to Saturday we are since informed, the Deep Hole works took in two million fish, which made ten thousand gallons of oil.

WILLIAM BUCK'S CREDITORS.

William Buck, a private banker at Sag Harbor, L. I., made an assignment for the benefit of creditors in 1877 to James Huntington, his liabilities amounting to about $40,000. A suit was brought to recover from Mrs. Buck some real estate which she held in her own right and which the creditors claimed had been bought with their money. The suit was decided in favor of the creditors and Mr. Huntington was about to divide among the creditors $10,000 which he had received from the sale of this real estate and other assets, when an injunction restraining him from dividing this money was served on him. The injunction was obtained by Mrs. Mary J. Graham, an ex-entire of her husband's estate, which was divided among his children. Mrs. Graham claims that it can be proved that the property sold by the assignee was bought with $25,000 belonging to the estate and which she deposited with Mr. Buck. Mrs. Graham's husband is Mr. Stephen B. French, whose nomination for Police Commissioner by Mayor Cooper is now pending before the Aldermen. It is said that the money was deposited with Mr. Buck at Mr. French's advice, and it is claimed that if Mrs. Graham's suit to recover it from the assignee is lost the heirs can recover from Mr. French on his bond. Mr. French was to have been examined last Tuesday, but was unable to leave New York, being engaged day and night in receiving Republican Aldermen and leaders and in striving to have his nomination confirmed.

TRANSPORTATION OF CATTLE.

The bill introduced by Mr. Covert, of New York, on Monday, in regard to watering cattle on trains, &c., is an extension of the law with regard to feeding and watering of live stock in course of transportation to market. It is an important bill and should be well understood. It provides that:

"No Railroad Company, steamboat corporation, or other common carrier, carrying cattle, sheep, swine, &c., from one state to another, shall confine the same in cars, boats, &c., for a longer time than 25 consecutive hours without unloading the same for rest, water and feeding for a period of at least seven consecutive hours, unless prevented by unavoidable causes.

Animals so confined shall be put into pens and fed and properly watered during such rest by their owners or custodians. Should they omit to do so, then the corporation is required to do it at the owners' expense. The penalty for violation of any of the above provisions is a fine of not less than $100 or more than $500.

"Provided, That if said animals are transported in cars or boats where they have proper food and water, the above provisions shall not apply. In no case shall animals be kept for a longer period than 60 hours without unloading the same for rest, water and food. Live stock to have right of way over all other than passenger trains.

"All penalties to be sued for otherwise prosecuted for in the United States courts. One-half of all fines or forfeitures to inure one-half to the complainant, the other half to the United States Treasury."

OPHTHALMIA IN EGYPT.

Ophthalmia is a disease not peculiar to the Levant. In Egypt it is still more common, and in India our countrymen also suffer from it. In Syria the chalk districts are those where it prevails most, for the glare of the white rock is very trying to the sight. It is said that the use of kohel to the eyes is one of the best preservatives against this painful disease. Ophthalmia is, unfortunately, very catching, but care and cleanliness will do much to prevent its becoming dangerous, and the use of nitrate of silver in severe cases has a very salutary result.—Blackwoods Magazine.

A FEMALE CRUSOE.

The San Francisco journals contain an account of what they call a California Crusoe, an Indian woman who had for eighteen years lived alone on a dreary desert island, and was finally discovered and taken off by the crew of a vessel in search of her. Many years ago a small schooner was sent to the island of San Nicholas, in the Pacific, some seventy-five miles southeast of Santa Barbara, to bring away a number of Indians living there and settle them on the main land. Nineteen men, women and children had been got on board, when one of them, a mother, found that two of her offspring had been left behind. She immediately jumped overboard and swam to the island, where she sought in vain for her children. Having returned to the shore, she saw the schooner sailing away, and tried in vain to attract attention. The island was not visited again for sixteen years. Then an otter-hunter, named George Nidever, commanding a small vessel, landed there, and detected evidences of human habitation, but could not stay long enough to prosecute his quest; two years after he sailed there again and, roaming over the island, came upon the woman, who was not at all wild, and made no effort to escape. She was clad in a garment fashioned of the skin of a sea-fowl, and was occupied in skinning seal-blubber, which had formed the greater part of her diet. She was quite good-looking, seemed about fifty years old, and spoke a language nobody could understand. She died a few weeks after reaching Santa Barbara, while living in the house of Nidever, from the effects of a fall seriously injuring her spine.
