MORE THAN 100 MINERS REPORTED TO HAVE BEEN KILLED IN FIGHTING AT WEST VIRGINIA COAL FIELDS

Miners and Federal Troops
Clash—Two Fires Battles
Being Waged—Army
Commands Area.

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Sept. 3.—A class with miners and federal troops was reported to have occurred along the Coal River, shortly after noon today.

At a point along the river where the troops were crossing the miners were said to have offered resistance and precipitated the battle.

The report came from the office of Sheriff Don Chaffin, of Logan county. No other details of the reported battle were given.

LOGAN, West Va., Sept. 3.—Two fierce battles today are being waged on the slopes of Blair Mountain and the other along Beech Creek in the Crooked Creek section.

The miners were reported attacking with a force estimated at 3,000 men.

Leaders of the Logan defense army believed it to be the final desperate attempt by the miners to take the county seat.

Funerals of forty-two victims of the mine war have been held near Blair, Sheriff Chaffin announced today after surveying reports of air scouts.

Ambulances arrived here shortly afterward with the bodies of two dead miners, recovered during the fighting which is in progress.

Sheriff Chaffin announced his advice indicated that more than 100 miners had been killed to date.

Fifty-five prisoners were freed from the Logan County Jail late yesterday to make room for captive miners, Chaffin said. He declined to announce the number of miners taken.

Definite information on the number of casualties could not be obtained, but air scouts reported many miners killed by the rifle and machine-gun fire laid down upon them. Sheriff Chaffin sent back a report there had been no casualties in his force today.

Federal troops had not arrived and officials expressed fear the defenders could not hold out against the miners' attack.

Fighting along a 25 mile front was announced at eleven a. m. in a communication received from Colonel W. E. Eubanks, commander of the citizen defenders.

Most of the firing was of a sniping variety, the communication stated.

"We have the situation well in hand," Eubanks said. "Fresh troops and officers are on all fronts and the defense army is working perfectly."

It was not known here whether "fresh troops and officers" meant United States regulars or citizens' reinforcements.

Colonel Eubanks said the bodies of two unidentified miners were picked up this morning.

Authorities today denied that a number of bombs dropped from six government airplanes that arrived here from Langley Field yesterday, caused heavy fatalities among the miners, as was reported.

The bombs were said to have been made of iron pipe filled with high explosive. The airplanes were reported to have returned to their landing field near here after the air raid.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today told President Harding that the coal operators of West Virginia are to blame for the fighting and bloodshed of the past few days.

Gompers, accompanied by James Lord, president of the mining department of the American Federation of Labor, to the White House and placed the case of the miners before Harding.

Shortly after they left Secretary of War Weeks called and told the President that the situation in West Virginia appeared unchanged. Weeks has not heard from General H. H. Bandholtz, in charge of the Federal troops sent to the fighting area, since last midnight. The storm has interfered with wire facilities, he said.

Martial law will be proclaimed from Washington if necessary, Weeks said when asked whether Bandholtz had been given discretionary power to place the embattled territory under military rule.

WINDOW GLASSER CAUGHT.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 3.—After operating in Rochester for nearly three weeks, causing thousands of dollars of damage, a man suspected of doing the window-glazing here, was arrested last night by Philip Federick, inspector in city court criminal branch. The prisoner says he is Franklyn McCormack, aged 35 of 1555 Baker street, Brooklyn. He can neither hear nor speak.

11 SAILORS ADRIFT 2 WEEKS FOUND AT SEA

Had Set Out to Row 600 Miles to Shore—Ship Abandoned—Men Reported to be in Good Health.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Sept. 3.—Two officers and nine men in a lifeboat from the steamer Canadian Importer were picked up at sea today by the tug San Lion, according to advices received by the Marine Department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce today.

The men are those who put off from the importer two weeks ago today and attempted to row six hundred miles to the California coast in search of help for their steamer which was disabled, waterlogged and helpless.

All of the men were reported by the San Lion as in good health and little the worse off for their experience. They took supplies with them.

The message failed to say where the boat was found.

The Canadian Importer was last reported by the steamer Canadian Observer, which was standing by her, as about six hundred miles off the northern California coast. Captain Blissett and 35 of the crew remained on the importer.

A radiogram to owners of the Sea Lion this morning advised that as picking up the boatload of sailors, it was decided that the tug should proceed to where the importer was awaiting assistance, some 600 miles off the California coast, taking the rescued men back to their ship.

PACKERS TO REDUCE WAGES OF WORKERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Cuts in wages of 200,000 packing-house employees of the country were planned by the "big five" packers today.

Announcement of the wage reductions will be made when the agreement under which Judge Samuel A. Schuler, acting as arbitrator, expires on September 15th.

Packer union representatives were in session here today discussing means of meeting the proposed wage reductions. They considered a proposition for presentation to the packers, proposed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Gompers was in conference with Denis Lane, secretary-treasurer of the union, here early in the week, and at that time suggested the proposed basis on which the workers' representatives may go before the employers.

CARPENTERS AWARDED INCREASE OF $1 A DAY

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 3.—Union carpenters of Newark, Bloomfield, Montclair and East, South and West Orange, today were granted an increase in wages of $1 a day by Police Judge Frank R. Boettcher, arbitrator in the wage dispute. The new scale, which increases wages from $5 to $6 a day, is effective until April 1st, 1922.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—All New York exchanges were closed today until Tuesday.

PRINCE OF MONACO IS REPORTED DYING

Aged Monarch of Smallest Country in Serious Condition.

VERDUT-LES-BAINS, France, Sept. 3.—Prince Albert, of Monaco, is reported to be dying here today.

The aged monarch, whose tiny principality on the French Riviera was one of the last two remaining absolute monarchies in Europe ten years ago, had been suffering from a severe cold contracted while hunting in the Pyrenees Mountains.

Physicians, urgently summoned from Paris, rushed here in an appeal to save the monarch, but because of his advanced age, 73, it is feared that he may not recover.

The Prince, whose country on the Mediterranean is about three miles long by a mile and a half broad, has been an ardent sportsman and explorer for many years, his aquarium and museum being the finest of their kind in the world.

Prince Albert, whose principality, which includes Monaco, La Condamine, and Monte-Carlo, has 23,000 inhabitants, 300,000 votes, and a million and a half visitors each year, has one son, Prince Louis, born in 1870. He has been twice married, once to an English Duchess, once to a French.

TO CURB THE LIQUOR PERMITS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The Federal prohibition authorities have decided to make a sweeping shake up in the enforcement organization of New York City. Commissioner Roy A. Haynes regards the situation there as of such seriousness that he will give it his personal attention. He will go to the metropolis Tuesday morning from Washington to take charge of the work.

One of the things Mr. Haynes is expected to do when he gets to New York is to make a complete readjustment of the permit system, which is one of many reforms officials here feel is necessary if enforcement is to be tightened in New York and if the withdrawal and sale of liquor from bonded warehouses is to be restricted.

Several experts from the headquarters office here will accompany Mr. Haynes, ready to make a complete checkup of the permit system now in use in New York. The intent of the Commissioner is to clean up that and then to tackle other features to which there has been objection.

The outcome of the reorganization and shakeup which the New York organization is expected to undergo probably will be that irregularities in permits to dealers to withdraw and sell liquor will be reduced to a minimum. One of the important features of that reorganization will be to comb the list of permit holders to weed out the undesirable, particularly among wholesale and retail drugists.

PAULINE FREDERICK NOW BEING SUED FOR $25,000

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Sept. 3.—Charges that Attorney George Edward Joseph, of New York city, sent her endearing notes and telegrams, and followed up with an amended bill for them, were made by Pauline Frederick, stage and motion picture star, here today.

She made the charges in an answer to Joseph's suit against her for $35,000 for services rendered, which she said she would file immediately.

Draft of the answer includes filing of a counter claim for $15,000 by Miss Frederick against Joseph.

FAIR WEATHER NEXT WEEK.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Forecast for the period September 5th to 10th, inclusive:

SENATOR PHIPPS ILL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Senator Phipps, of Colorado, is critically ill, following an operation for appendicitis, it was learned today.

Phipps is a 57-year-old, friend of President Harding and was through a message sent to the White House that Phipps' condition was revealed.

U. S.-CANADA PEACE EXAMPLE FOR ALL

President Harding Hopes the Hundred Years of Friendship Will Impress the World.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Hope that the hundred years of peace between Canada and the United States will be an example for the whole world was expressed by President Harding in a message sent to Samuel Hill, of Seattle, to be read at the dedication of a peace portal erected on the Pacific highway at the international line.

The President's message in part follows:

"You have erected a temple of peace, whose gates are never to be closed save in direst need. Already it stands for more than a century of unbroken peace between Britain and America and we all join in the hope that in coming time it may commemorate an area of peace much longer than the period of wars for which the temple of Janus stood."

"Our country and more of peace with the British Empire, our relations of unbroken amity with Canada, the fact that a boundary line over three thousand miles long remains unfortified—these are the testimonials that the world grows wiser and better."

"All mankind looks to this example, and years is able to follow it, and we are justified to believe that a time is at hand when it may take a long step in that direction. On the occasion of dedication of the Pacific peace portal, I wish to convey to you personally my high appreciation of your patriotic service in providing this symbolic link to international peace, and in doing so, I would also thank the Pacific Highway Association for fine co-operation it has rendered."

LEFT-SMALL ESTATE.

ODDENSEBURG, Sept. 3.—An appraisal of the estate of the late Bishop Gebriels, which is now being made, is expected to reveal that he left property valued at between $5,000 and $10,000. The York was married yesterday by appraisers, James J. McNeil and W. G. Moore. A report is to be filed in a few days.

RACE POSTPONED.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 3.—The first heat of the Harmsworth trophy to have been run at four o'clock this afternoon, was postponed shortly after one o'clock today until Monday afternoon on the request of Colonel A. W. Tate, skipper of the Irish challenger, Maple Leaf VII, because of a broken gear box. The race will be held Monday.

SALMON RUN SMALL.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The busy Sunday night lunch with its salmon sandwiches is endangered. Consular reports here today showed the Canadian salmon run was the lowest in history. Reports from the State of Washington said the run was so short it was doubtful if more than 20,000 cases would be packed as against 400,000 four years ago and 1,700,000 cases eight years ago.

BREAK IN HEAT WAVE MON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The heat wave of the past two weeks will end early next week, the Weather Bureau forecast today.

Showers will fall during the first of next week. In the North and Middle Atlantic States Tuesday will see a marked change in temperature, while the weather will be normal in many parts of the West and South States, the forecast stated.

U. S. DEMANDS PROTECTION OF HER INDUSTRIES

Note Sent to Allied Nations to Safeguard American Interests in Mandate German Territories.

GENEVA, Sept. 3.—The United States has made proposals to the Allies for amendments to the various mandates arranged at Versailles. Representatives of the Allied governments at the League of Nations Council today informed the Council that a note had been received from Washington proposing changes.

The text of the American note was not given out here.

The United States' note to the Allies raises serious questions which have been under discussion regarding mandates. It was admitted although its contents is being carefully guarded.

The League of Nations Council today decided to urge the United States to speed up the negotiations for the purpose of permitting the Council to confirm the terms of the mandates decided upon during the present session.

The Council points out to the United States that it can not act until an agreement is reached between the United States and the Allied governments.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The United States has sent a note to the Allied powers to protect American interests in mandates over former German territory. It was learned here today.

Identical notes, it is understood, were sent to the four principal Allied powers, making up the Council of the League of Nations, Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy.

The note was sent some weeks ago. It was indicated, but State Department officials refused absolutely to discuss the document in any way.

This latest note from Secretary of States Hughes is regarded as part of his effort to safeguard and guarantee American interests in mandate territory indicated by his note to Japan relative to the island of Yap.

PENNSY TRAIN WRECKED.

COHOCHON, O., Sept. 3.—More than a score of persons were reported injured, some seriously, when a Pennsylvania train No. 34, east bound from Chicago, was wrecked near here early today.

The injured were brought to a hospital here. None will die, it was reported.

Six coaches left the tracks, according to first reports. Spreading rails are blamed.

CONFERENCE ON ST. LAWRENCE PROJECT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Murray H. Herbert, Commissioner of Docks and Director of Port here, left today for Syracuse, where he will confer with fellow members of the commission named by the Legislature to oppose a project for the canalization of the St. Lawrence River.

FIVE PERISH IN TENEMENT FIRE

CONFIRMATION THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN Started by Firebug.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Five persons perished, probably by the work of a firebug, when the oil-fueled flames swept through a First Avenue tenement building early today. Two others were seriously injured, and members of eight families narrowly escaped with their lives.

Evidence found by the fire fighters and police proved, they said, that the fire was incendiary.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Calan, their son and daughter, and Bernard de Luca, 55.

The rapidly with which the flames spread through the wooden building trapped the drag persons, without a chance to escape. The bodies of Mrs. Calan and her son were found in positions showing they had been fighting their way to a window to jump when they were overpowered.

Fred de Luca, 20, fought to save his mother from the flames, and after dragging her to safety jumped from a window when his nightclothing caught fire. He struck a cornice of the building and turned a somersault striking on his head. He was taken to the hospital, where after he had been bandaged and put to bed, he learned of the fate of his father.

Throwing off the bedclothes he eluded attendants and dashed from the hospital back to the blazing tenement, where he disappeared into the flames. He was later rescued.

COL. C. E. WALSH RESIGNS AS MANAGER OF BUREAU

ALBANY, Sept. 3.—Col. Charles E. Walsh, commanding officer of the 10th Infantry, has resigned as manager of the second district of the veteran bureau effective August 31st. He will take charge of a subdivision of the district, which will permit him to spend much of his time in Albany. The first post would have kept him away from Albany most of the time.

FOOD PRICES CLIMB HIGHER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Retail food prices are beginning to soar again.

Prices of food advanced in fourteen big cities during August, according to an announcement of the Labor Department today. This may represent the beginning of a new advance of the price level for all commodities, officials said.

Retail prices of food until July dropped steadily month by month. During August, however, these advances were recorded:

Philadelphia six per cent.; Bridgeport, Conn., New Haven, Providence, R. I., Washington five per cent.; Kansas City four per cent.; St. Louis, Springfield, Ill., and Birmingham three per cent.; Peoria, Ill., two per cent.; Salt Lake City, Denver and Little Rock one per cent.

In general retail food prices are between 50 and 75 per cent. above the pre-war level of prices.

ONEIDA IS SWEET BY —TORNADO AND DELUGE.

CITY IN GRIP OF STORM FOR 15 MINUTES
—Thousands of Dollars' Worth of Damage Reported.

ONEIDA, Sept. 3.—For 15 minutes yesterday afternoon, this city was swept by a baby tornado and cloud-burst, which rained away a storm of the season for the damage created. Trees and wires were torn down and hurled for several feet. Automobiles standing on the streets and avenues running East and West were blown for blocks by the wind, resulting in their smashing into other machines and jumping curbs. At one time during the height of the storm, four runaway automobiles, propelled by the force of the wind, were cutting capers in Lenox avenue opposite the trolley station.

Thousands of dollars' worth of damage has been caused throughout the agricultural belt by the storm.

THEFT OF ARMY GOODS —DISCLOSED BY ARRESTS

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The theft of army goods valued at more than $20,000 from Camp Dix, New Jersey, was revealed today when Gustav Rosenberg, Charles R. Willets and John D. Johnson were held in $10,000 bail by United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government.

It is alleged that forty-three cases of shoes, thirty-one boxes of underwear and twenty-five boxes of socks were stolen.

HERRICK FINDS HOME IN FASHIONABLE PARIS

RENTS RESIDENCE OF PRINCE DE BROGLIE
Near Where President Wilson
First Lived.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—Ambassador Myron T. Herrick has finally found a Paris residence after a search of a month and a half. Today he signed a lease for the palatial mansion of the Prince and Princess Jacques de Broglie, at No. 16 Avenue de Messine. Although the Ambassador would not reveal the amount paid, it is learned the sum presents a substantial fortune in France.

The mansion, which is one of the most beautiful in the exclusive Parc Monceau quarter, is in sharp contrast with the simple villa which Mr. Herrick has been occupying at Garches, near St. Cloud. Since his arrival the Ambassador has been forced to live outside Paris in a house which was originally taken by his son, Ramsey Herrick.

The Ambassador's difficulty in finding a home has been sympathetically followed by Parisians and the press, the latter referring to him as "the Homeless Ambassador." The Avenue de Messine runs into the Rue Monceau where President Wilson lived during his first sojourn at the Peace Conference.

KEEP "DATE" MADE ON THE VERY FRONT

WINNIPEG, Sept. 3.—Three modern musketeers today kept a pact made on Vimy Ridge on Christmas Eve of 1916. That night, a little back of the front line, an artilleryman, a bombardier and a signaller inscribed on the back of a photograph of the father of one of the following platoon:

"We solemnly promise on our word of honor to meet at Winnipeg on September 1st, 1921. If alive, to renew acquaintance."

A few days later the three—J. J. Veonians, of Belleville, Ont.; J. J. Crilly, of Saskatoon, and G. R. Sealy, of British Columbia—were separated in the next few weeks all were wounded and Yeomans spent fourteen months in a German prison camp.

But this morning they all showed up in Winnipeg to attend a baseball game and share party and to time at the expense of Crilly. For Crilly had agreed to foot the bill if the war did not end within a year.

RIOTING ON HAITIAN ISLAND

HAVANA, Sept. 3.—Rioting among Haitians on the island of Niquero resulted in the destruction today of two Cuban warships to the scene.

Three hundred workers on the sugar plantations claim they have not been paid, and have refused the Cuban government's offer of transportation home. One has been killed and several wounded in battles with the police.

NOW SEVENTY-ONE CASES.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 3.—The number of positive cases of typhoid fever continues to mount here despite anti-typhoid efforts of the Department of Health. The total number up to last evening had reached seventy-one.

ALONE FOR EIGHTEEN YEARS

Indian Woman, Abandoned on Desert Island, Finally Found by Party of Otter Hunters.

On San Nicholas Island, which is uninhabited, a party of sea-otter hunters, landing to chance their luck, found, to their amazement, the imprint of human feet on the sandy shore—imprints freshly made. They scattered in search. But, the wind shifting and commencing to blow hard, they had to regain their vessel before the maker of the marks could be found. It was undeniable, however, a human being lived on this bleak, wind-blown island of sand and tall brushwood.

On returning to the mainland they reported the strange discovery, but nothing was done until a Roman Catholic priest was so moved by the news that he persuaded the captain of a small schooner to sail with him for San Nicolas. After two days searching he discovered this lonely Orasco—the first of a new kind. For he found inside a low hut of driftwood a woman more like a beast than a person.

She was clad in alter skins, and the feathered skins of the sea-fowl, and her companion was an otter, which she had caught very young and tamed.

The priest with difficulty got her story, for she had almost forgotten how to speak. Many years previously the small tribe of Indians to which she belonged—inhabitants of San Nicolas from time past—had been shifted by the government to the mainland. As they were being taken on board, her baby had fallen into the sea, and she had leaped after him, and in the dusk had been given up as drowned. She reached the shore, however, to find the child was dead. In utter loneliness she had lived there for 18 years.

NO RELIEF EVEN IN DEATH

Profiteering Claimed to Have Spread to the Undertaker and the Cemetery Manager.

Exploitation even at the side of the grave! Birth has long been regarded as a costly occasion, sometimes the occasion of profiteering. Diseases during infancy afford further opportunities for taking advantage of people's ignorance. Child labor and other ills seize upon the youth almost before he enters adolescence, and fraudulent schemes of education may carry him into maturity. Adult life, of course, is a long stretch of abuses. Our food, our shelter, our clothes, our leisure—somewhere we are almost certain to pay the penalty of living; many of us even regard ourselves as underpaid. If we attempt to fly from these demands of exorbitancy the lean shark grins outside the door. Old age creeps upon us with leering malevolence. From the cradle onward we are harried. And now comes death to add its finishing touch of trickery, writes Whitthrop D. Lane in the Literary Review of Quincy L. Dowd's "Funeral Management and Costs." St. Paul's question has been answered. The sting of death lies in its cost; the victory of the grave belongs to the undertaker and the cemetery manager. "We bargain for the graves we lie in."

Americans Killed With Escadrille

There were twelve young Americans who gave up their lives for France while flying with the Lafayette escadrille or squadron. To perpetuate their names and memory a memorial tablet was modeled by a French artist at Sevres, France, in 1919, and executed under the direction of Sidney B. Vest, secretary of the foreign service committee of the Aero Club of America. The Lafayette squadron won imperishable fame by its success in aerial combats with enemy planes, of which no fewer than 136 were brought down by this organization alone. The names on the tablet: Norman Barclay, Julian Biddle, Andrew Courtney Campbell, Jr., Oliver Chadwick, Victor Chapman, Edmond Genet, Ronald Hooker Douglas, McMonigal, James McConnel, Norman Prince, Kinn Rockwell.

Stotesburg, the Pratts, the Dodge estate, Andrew W. Mellon.

Whale of a Fish Story.

"It's a whale," more than one visitor asserted who visited Monk's wharf here recently. They were wrong. It was a sturgeon. From the tip of its tail to its snout it measured just 18 feet, and it weighed 935 pounds. This monster fish was taken with a drift net in the Pitt river by an Indian fisherman, and is said to be the second largest ever taken. —New Westminster Correspondence To-ronto Globe.

Noah's Oversight.

"Don't forget to feed and water the canary birds," said Mrs. Meekton as she started for the train. "I won't, Henrietta," replied Leonard; "though I can't help wishing sometimes that Noah, when planning to perpetuate animal life, had decided to leave canary birds out of the ark."

SAYS BROWN DREW GIBBS POWER BILL

Charges Made in Letter to Hylan--Utilities is Mentioned.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The New York American publishes a story in which F. L. Hackett, representing the 14th Assembly district of New York county, is quoted as saying that Elton R. Brown, of Watertown, chief counsel of the Meyer investigating committee, is responsible for the Gibbs water power bill, passed at the last session of the Legislature. The charges were made by Assemblyman Hackett in an open letter to Mayor Hylan, in which he declares that the Meyer probe is used as a "smoke screen" to draw public attention from what Hackett terms Governor Miller's "assault upon the public rights through the water-power and traction grab bills."

The letter charges that there is an interlocking directorate between the Northern New York Utilities and the Northern New York Trust Company, of which Speaker Machold, of the Assembly, is a director. The latter is a member of the State Water-Power Commission, and Hackett claims that as a result the Utilities might get special favors if they seek rights from the State Commission.

CHICKENS CHLOROFORMED.

STEALING IS MADE EASY

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—Chicken stealing has been developed into a science by the up-to-date journeyman hen-house thieves of Libertyville and Grays Lake, who have taken recourse to anesthetics. On their forays nowadays, the thieves carry atomizers and on entering a chicken roost, spray the interior with chloroform. Thus they can carry on their operations on a large scale, also minimizing the chances of discovery. Recent depredations of the chloroform robbers have aroused the farmers of Grays Lake and Libertyville to action. Charles Clapham, who lives in the latter village, found upon examination of his hen-house yesterday that everyone of his 100 chickens was gone. There was not a trace of the chickens, but the odor of chloroform lingered in the air.

ALONE FOR EIGHTEEN YEARS

Indian Woman, Abandoned on Desert Island, Finally Found by Party of Otter Hunters.

On San Nicholas island, which is uninhabited, a party of sea-otter hunters, landing to chance their luck, found, to their amazement, the imprint of human feet on the sandy shore—imprints freshly made. They scattered in search. But, the wind shifting and commencing to blow hard, they had to regain their vessel before the maker of the marks could be found. It was undeniable, however, a human being lived on this bleak, wind-blown island of sand and tall brushwood.

On returning to the mainland they reported the strange discovery, but nothing was done until a Roman Catholic priest was so moved by the news that he persuaded the captain of a small schooner to sail with him for San Nicholas. After two days' search, small schooner to sail with him for San Nicolas. After two days' searching he discovered this lonely Orscoe—the first of a new kind. For he found inside a low hut of driftwood a woman more like a beast than a person.

She was clad in otter skins, and the feathered skins of the sea-fowl, and her companion was an otter, which she had caught very young and tamed.

The priest with difficulty got her story, for she had almost forgotten how to speak. Many years previously the small tribe of Indians to which she belonged—inhabitants of San Nicolas from time past—had been shifted by the government to the mainland. As they were being taken on board, her baby had fallen into the sea, and she had leaped after him, and in the dusk had been given up as drowned. She reached the shore, however, to find the child was dead. In utter loneliness she had lived there for 18 years.
