Women Race Over Snow, Ice
Women in Sweden had a new thrill in the late winter in long-distance road trials over snow and ice. In one event four Swedes and an English woman competed. The Swedes were able to hold to the roads, but the outsider, after a few "ditchings," had a skid into a telegraph pole which put her machine out of use.

FARM WOMAN BENEFITED

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lickdale, Pa.—"Before I was married, my mother and sister and I did all the farming work on a 64-acre farm for eleven years. I married a farmer and now in addition to my housework and the care of my children I help him with the outside work on our farm. After my last child was born, I began to suffer as many women do. Finally our family doctor told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did and now I am a new woman and I know that good health is better than riches."—Mrs. CLYDE I. Vickie—Did you carry a stake on your camping holiday?
Vickie—Where do you think we camped, on the mountain range?—London Globe Star.
Reason What's That?
Fanny—So you're plenty healthy to be laughing at me?
Fanny—Yes, I'm a dear old girl, but sometimes he won't listen to reason.
"He ought to be ashamed of himself. Not every married man has the chance."
Zero in Pleasure
Blinks—Did you enjoy the ride your husband's boy friend took you for in his sport car?
Fanny—Huh! Did you think you were going to be taken for a ride in a sport car?
Fanny—Yes, I was a dear old girl, but sometimes he won't listen to reason.
"He ought to be ashamed of himself. Not every married man has the chance."

On the Funny Side

SH-HI! WHY BRING THAT UP?
"My husband and I were going out for dinner and I was supervising the children's meal before leaving. Betty Grace, aged four, scrambled into my customary place at the table and motioned her brother to his father's seat opposite. You be the papa and I'll be the mamma," she proposed gaily. "Imagine my astonishment and dismay at her next words, 'Now, let's argue!'—G. K. P., in New Outlook."

KNOCK PREVENTIVE

"He says no one can speak slightly of his cat."
"How come?"
"Because he uses no-neck gas."

Neighbor—Surprised! That's odd. If your garden had come over the wall and scratched up my chickens I could have understood your astonishment.—Army and Navy Journal.

"My boy friend gives me a pain in the neck."
"He always was a rough necker."

Poetic Terms
The poet has a file complete Upon his desk; And any girl who's not petite Is statuesque.

One of Those Comedies?
Blinks (leaving the picture show)—That was so rotten I'd like to go to the box office and demand my money back!
Jinks—Huh! I feel like insisting upon them paying me at least 10 bucks for having sat through the darn thing!

Stenographic Aid
"I've an invention at last that will mean a fortune!"
"What is it this time?"
"Why it's an extra key for a typewriter. When you don't know how to spell a word you hit that key, and it makes a blur that might be an 'e,' an 'a,' or almost anything else you like."

Put to Use

Little Leroy—Can't; my ma makes hooked rugs out of 'em.—Chicago Daily News.

The Coin Is Safe
"My little daughter has swallowed a gold sovereign and has got to be operated on. I wonder if Dr. Robinson is to be trusted?"
"Without a doubt. He's absolutely honest."

Cause and Effect
A misogynist said to a woman: "All this feminism is sheer nonsense. There isn't a woman alive who would not rather be beautiful than intelligent."
"That," said the woman, "is because so many men are stupid and so few blind."

Not Unusual
First Motorist—Where's the handle to this car door, anyhow?
Second Motorist—Under the ninth pennant from the rear.

Has Safety Appliance
Mrs. Jabs—And she is a woman who can look a thought so that you can really feel it.
Mrs. Dices—Yes; and you can't get back at her, because you can't say she said it.

That in Their Favor
Blinks—the old-time novels were pretty amusing.
Jinks—Yes, but you didn't feel the need of being fascinated after reading one.

When BABIES are upset

Baby ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea—a condition it is always important to check quickly. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready? There is nothing that can take the place of this harmless but effective remedy for children; nothing that acts quite the same, or has quite the same comforting effect on them.
For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. Its gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. Its mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria; the genuine bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper.

Crusoe Not in It With Indian Woman Recluse

The story of a woman "Robinson Crusoe" who lived alone on an island for 20 long years is told by Dr. Roy L. Moodle, who has been delving into the records of old native life in the region of Santa Monica, Calif., in his study of prehistoric diseases in America.
The feminine Crusoe had been a member of a small group of Indians which lived on San Nicholas Island, off the California coast, about 100 years ago. The Spanish fathers persuaded the group to leave their lonely island and find better protection at the Santa Barbara mission. But this woman refused to come. All alone she demonstrated her self-sufficiency in the world by making her home of whale ribs and brush, and by living off the abundant fish, abalones, birds, seals and some plant products. She made her clothing of bird skins. When at last she was brought to the mission she died within six weeks.
The island possesses many relics of aboriginal life, but none so romantic as the record of the last woman, Doctor Moodle said.—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

Use for Historic Building
The old court house in St. Louis, in which the Dred Scott case was tried, will be used as an exhibition place for the art of the Mississippi valley, according to plans now being shaped by the St. Louis Art League. The historic building, whose dome once was the giant of the city, now nestled down among clusters of skyscrapers, will be abandoned by the civil courts when the new $4,000,000 civil court house is ready for occupancy. The exhibitions, according to present plans, would be devoted mainly to works of modern art and are all associated with the Midwest and the valley.

Radio Guards Sailors
A radio beacon system has been added to the equipment of the Highland light signal station, one of the principal guardians of shipping in treacherous Cape Cod waters. Information is broadcast to ships at sea four times daily, and in thick weather, the conditions are broadcast continuously, with one-minute blasts and two-minute silence. Any ship equipped with a radio set may listen in.

Next Farm Invention
Dairymen are now looking forward to building barns in which the atmosphere will always suit the cow; to keeping "working" cows in factories near the cities and of using remote farm lands for dry animals and calves.—The Country Home.

Super Agriculturist
All farmers study crop production, but a man who specializes in the branch of agriculture that deals with theory and practice of crop production is called an agronomist.

Was ever any wicked man free from the stings of a guilty conscience?—Tillotson.
